DIVINE MERCY

Taken from Saint Faustina's Diary

Bless This Pen

Meditation:

As I took the pen in hand, I addressed a short prayer to the Holy Spirit and said, "Jesus, bless this pen so that everything You order me to write may be for the glory of God." Then I heard a voice: Yes, I bless [it], because this writing bears the seal of obedience to your superior and confessor, and by that very fact I am already given glory, and many souls will be drawing profit from it. My daughter, I demand that you devote all your free moments to writing about My goodness and mercy. It is your office and your assignment throughout your life to continue to make known to souls the great mercy I have for them and to exhort them to trust in My bottomless mercy (Diary, 1567).

My Prayer Response:

Thank You, Lord Jesus, for blessing the pen of St. Faustina with which she wrote under holy obedience. Her faithfulness to You continues to inspire people around the world. Her Diary has now been translated into dozens of languages and reaches out to millions in need of Your mercy.

The words of Jesus appear in boldface type*

Feasts and Memorials

18 OCTOBER

Saint Luke, Evangelist

C1. Born of a pagan family and converted to the true faith, he was the companion of the apostle Paul and wrote the longest of the Gospels in accordance with the apostle's preaching, emphasising compassion and the universality of Christ's message for Gentiles, the poor and the marginalised. He continued with an account of the early days of the Church, up to the time of Paul's first sojourn at Rome, in the Acts of the Apostles. By tradition, Luke was also a physician and was the sacred artist responsible for writing the first icon of the Blessed Virgin Mary. He died in Greece around the year 84.

19 OCTOBER

Saints John de Brebeuf and Isaac Jogues, Priests, and Companions, Martyrs

Between the years 1642 and 1649, these eight members of the Society of Jesus who had gone to North America to preach the true faith to the pagans of that land, were killed by the Huron Indians and the Iroquois tribes after they had suffered terrible tortures. Isaac Jogues died on 18 October 1647 and John de Brebeuf on 16 March 1648.

Saint Paul of the Cross, Priest

1694-1775. Born Paolo Francesco Danei at Ovada in Piedmont, as a young man he helped his father who was a merchant but afterwards, feeling himself called to a life of prayer and penitence, he gave up his worldly goods and looked after the poor and the sick. He assembled a body of companions to help him in this work, who became known as the Passionists. Pope Benedict XIII ordained the early community as priests, since when they have preached missions while based in monasteries known as 'retreats'. Paul devoted the rest of his life to apostolic works for the salvation of souls, practising austere mortification. He died at Rome in one of his retreats, Ss John and Paul al Celio.

Saint John Paul II, Pope

*920-2005. Karol Wojtyta was born in Wadowice, Poland. After ordination to the priesthood and theological studies in Rome, he returned to his homeland for various pastoral and academic roles. Being made auxiliary bishop, then in 1954, Archbishop of Krakow, he took part in the Second Vatican Council. On 16 October 1978, he was elected the first non-

Italian pope in 455 years, and adopted the name John Paul II after his three predecessor's. His exceptional apostolic zeal, particularly for families, young people and the sick, led to more pastoral visits throughout the world than any other pontiff, despite an attempt on his life in 1981. His heritage to the Church includes a rich Magisterium, along with the promulgation of the Catechism and the Codes of Canon Law for both the Latin and Eastern Churches. He was the third longest-serving pope in history and the only one to visit Liverpool - on 30 May 1982, when he travelled from Speke Airport to both cathedrals, celebrated the Mass of Pentecost and stayed overnight with Archbishop Worlock. Following a long illness, he died peacefully at Rome on the eve of Divine Mercy Sunday, a feast that he had instigated.

23 OCTOBER

Saint John of Capistrano, Priest

1386-1456. Born at Capistrano in the Abruzzi and educated in law, he became governor of Perugia at the age of 26. After studying theology he responded to a vocation to join the Order of Friars Minor, was ordained priest, and went throughout Europe leading an ascetic apostolic life, seeking to strengthen Christian morals and to argue against the errors of the heretics. For combating the invasion of the Ottoman Empire he was known as 'the soldier priest'. He died of bubonic plague following the siege of Belgrade.

24 OCTOBER

Saint Anthony Mary Claret, Bishop

1807-1870. Born at Salient near Barcelona, during teenage years he was a weaver, studying in his free time in response to a call to religious life. After becoming a priest, he spent several years in pastoral ministry, eloquently preaching throughout Catalonia, his sermons and writings helping revive the Catalan language. He founded a society of missionaries (Claretian Fathers) and with the patronage of Queen Isabella II he was made Archbishop of Santiago de Cuba, where he worked for the good of souls with great profit. Returning to Europe, he had to endure many trials for the sake of the Church and spent his remaining years between Rome and the Spanish court in exile in France, where he died during the First Vatican Council.

'One in Christ, united in mission'
Pope Leo xiv

Today, parishes worldwide celebrate World Mission Sunday. By supporting Missio - the Pope's charity for world mission - we stand united as God's global family, in prayer, solidarity and action. The Holy Father has chosen the theme 'One in Christ, united in mission' to celebrate 100 years of World Mission Sunday and encourages us to unite with missionaries as they strive to reach out with God's love to communities in need.

Please pray for the work of mission and give what you can to this vital collection. To donate, use the Missio envelope, call 020 7821 9755 (office hours) or visit missio.org.uk to give a gift, set up a Direct Debit and Gift Aid your donation if possible.
