DIVINE MERCY

Taken from Saint Faustina's Diary

Solely out of Mercy

Meditation:

Know, My daughter, that between Me and you there is a bottomless abyss, an abyss which separates the Creator from the creature. But this abyss is filled with My mercy. I raise you up to Myself, not that I have need of you, but it is solely out of mercy that I grant you the grace of union with Myself

(Diary, 1576).

My Prayer Response:

My Lord Jesus, fill in the bottomless abyss that separates You from me. Fill in the chasm with Your unfathomable mercy. Lord, the whole world needs Your kind of mercy now. Come, Lord Jesus, and please hurry up!

The words of Jesus appear in boldface type*

Feasts and Memorials

11 OCTOBER

Saint John XXIII, Pope 1881-1963.

Born Angelo Roncalli to a large family in Sotto il Monte, Bergamo, at the age of eleven he entered the diocesan seminary, progressing to the Pontifical Roman Seminary, and was ordained in 1904. Having been secretary to the Bishop of Bergamo, he entered the service of the Apostolic See, with successive roles in Rome, Bulgaria, Turkey, Greece and France, before being created Cardinal Patriarch of Venice. Elected pope just before his 77th birthday in 1958, the 'Good Pope' surprised the Church by adopting the name of John and even more by convoking the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council, hoping to emphasise the pastoral role of the Church in the modern world. Having died at Rome before the successful conclusion of the council, he was canonised together with Pope John Paul II in 2014.

Saint Wilfrid, Bishop C633-709.

Wilfrid was born in Northumbria and educated in the Celtic tradition at Lindisfarne, but after a visit to Rome became a protagonist of Roman customs, which he successfully championed, as Abbot of Ripon, at the Synod of Whitby in 664. As Bishop of York, he was the first English bishop to appeal to the pope, after his diocese had been divided without reference to him. On his way to Rome, he spent a year preaching the Gospel in the Low Countries, and on his return went as a missionary to Sussex and the Isle of Wight. Although reinstated in York, he fell out again with the king and other bishops, and exercised his ministry then in the East Midlands and finally at Hexham. He is remembered for his forceful personality and apostolic spirit, as a founder of churches and monasteries, and as a patron of the arts.

Saint Edward the Confessor

1003-1066. From the House of Wessex, Edward became the last Anglo-Saxon king of England in 1042. His death precipitated the Norman invasion of 1066 - he appears on the Bayeux Tapestry. Commonly titled 'the Confessor', he was regarded as a saint during his lifetime, renowned for his generosity to the Church and to the poor, and on account of the readiness with which he listened to his subjects' grievances. His relics were translated on this day in 1163 to Westminster Abbey, whose foundation he had richly endowed, and he was canonised by Pope Alexander III a century later.

14 OCTOBER

Saint Callixtus I, Pope and Martyr

C2-3. A Roman ordained deacon by Pope

Zephyrinus, whom he succeeded as pope, Callixtus was appointed superintendent of the first landed property owned by the Church, the extensive cemetery on the Appian Way where many popes and martyrs were buried, which later took his name. Open to pagan converts and willing to absolve all sins, he made enemies of the theologians Tertullian and Hippolytus (who became the first antipope, before being reconciled). He died in the year 222.

15 OCTOBER

Saint Teresa of Jesus, Virgin and Doctor of the Church 1515-1582.

Born Teresa Sanchez de Cepeda Davila y Ahumada, at Avila in Spain, she joined the Carmelite Order and made great progress in the way of perfection, receiving mystic revelations. She undertook the reform of the Order for both women and men, and in this she had to endure great trials, but overcame them all by her indomitable spirit and practicality. The first female Doctor of the Church, she wrote works which are renowned for the depth of their doctrine, reflecting her own spiritual experiences. She died at Alba, in one of her reformed Carmels, during the night that Catholic Europe switched from the Julian to the Gregorian calendar (4-15 October 1582).

16 OCTOBER

Saint Hedwig, Religious

1174-1243. Born into the aristocracy of Bavaria, Hedwig married the Duke of Silesia, by whom she had seven children. She was also the aunt of St Elizabeth of Hungary. Her life was renowned for her devotion and for her kindness to the sick and poor, for whom she built hostels. On the death of her husband, she gave away her fortune and retired to a Cistercian monastery at Trebnitz as a lay sister. Within a generation of her death she was canonised by Pope Clement IV.

Saint Margaret Mary Alacoque, Virgin

1647-1690. Born in the diocese of Autun in France, Margaret was a pious child who took on the name of Mary after recovery from rheumatic fever. She joined the Visitation Sisters at Paray-le-Monial, where she led a life of rapid progress along the way of perfection and was granted mystical revelations, especially concerning the Sacred Heart of Jesus. She spared no effort in bringing about veneration of the Sacred Heart in the Church, from which the Nine First Fridays Devotion originates.
